One of the New Plans.

A new plan mapped out for pooling this year's crop of Burley tobacco is finding much favor. The details of the plan have not yet been completed, but the general scheme has been formed as follows:

Agents will be sent out by the society to buy the crops of the growers outright for one dollar, "and other valuable considerations," the other valuable considerations to be the selling price of the man's crop by the society. This contract will vest the title to the crop in the Burley Tobacco Society and will do away with all attempt to break pledges and consequent injunctions to prevent a grower selling a crop that has been pledged.

To Prohibit Intermarriage.

To prohibit the intermarriage of negroes and whites in Washington, Senator Milton, of Florida, has introduced a bill in the Senate which provides that any person having one-eighth or more of negro blood shall be declared a negro.

Eight Young Negro Burglars Landed in Jail.

Officer James Durke on yesterday afternoon presented quite a novel sight walking down street with eight young negro boys, aged from 12 to 15 years, lined up in front of him on the way to jail. We understand two others were arrested afterwards and joined their pals in the lock-up.

They were charged with burglarizing Lavin & Connell's grocery, on corner of Main and Eighth streets. This store was robbed on Friday night last and on Wednesday night, of watches, knives, etc. and the cash register emptied of $15 in cash. Part of the missing goods have been recovered.

The members of the youthful gang of thieves now in jail are, Dallas Wilson, Dennis Lair, James Ross, James Washington, Harrison Richmond, Oakford Morris, Joe Billie, Ben Lair and two others. The leaders of the gang are the first two named, Dallas Wilson and Dennis Lair, they would select a night for the robbery and the two hide in the big grocery store room after dark and remain until Lavin & Connell would lock up. They would then unlock and unbolt the back door. The rest of the gang would be concealed on the outside, when the leaders would give the tip and hand out the swag which would be equally divided between them.

Seven of these boys were arrested while at the colored city school. Every last one of them should be given the lim in the Reform School at Greendale.

DEATHS.

—We see from the daily papers that Henry Green, for many years very popular conductor on the Maysville branch of the L. & N. died at his home in Louisville, Wednesday at the age of 63. His home was in Maysville when he was railroading.

—The body of Miss Pattie Crutcher, aged 22, who died near Payne's Depot, of typhoid fever, was interred at Lexington Tuesday. Miss Crutcher, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Crutcher, of Payne's Depot, had been confined to her bed for some days with typhoid fever, but it was not thought her condition was at all dangerous.

She was the eldest of two very attractive and devoted sisters, and was young woman of many beautiful traits of character and greatly beloved by her family and friends.

Her sister, Miss Virginia Crutcher, is also quite sick with the same disease and the sad news is being kept from her.

These two young ladies were former pupils at Bourbon College, in this city, and have many friends here who will regret to learn of this sad news.

Milk Thief Nabbed.

Mr. Oakford Hinton has been having his milk bottles stolen from his front steps and concluded to watch last night. A little after dark he was called to supper and asked his cook to keep watch while he ate. It was not long before she notified him.

He immediately ran to the door, picking up a heavy cane enroute. Two colored boys were making good time in leaving. Mr. Hinton followed and after a chase of over a square was close enough to the largest boy to use his cane. The first lick across the boy's head shattered the cane, but did not stop the thief.

In a few more jumps, however, he caught him and used the remaining piece of cane on him to a good advantage. The boy is about 16 years old and said his name was Butler and that he lived in Newtown. The smaller boy escaped. Butler was turned over to Chief of Police Hill.

The stealing of milk bottles is an everyday occurrence in Paris and this is the first capture of the thief yet to be reported.

Some steps should be taken to rid the streets of the crowds of little negroes that roam them every day and night looking for opportunities to do mischief. We might also add that the crowd of white children that are allowed by parents to loaf on the streets after night, committing all kinds of deviltry. They run in gangs, both white and black, they should be stopped.

Only yesterday, ten negro boys landed in the Paris jail for burglary, their ages running from 12 to 15 years.

Lincoln Stamp.

To commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, Postmaster General Meyer Wednesday announced that one hundred million new 2-cent postal stamps will be issued on or before February 12 next. The new issue was provided for by a joint resolution of Congress. The design comprises the portrait of Lincoln in an eclipse, the only decoration being a spray of laurel leaves and the inscription "United States Postage" in a straight line at the top of the stamp with the numerals "1809—February 12—1909" at the bottom. The color design will be red, as with the present 2-cent stamp. The profile was taken from a copy in the Corcoran Art Gallery in Washington of St. Gauden's statue of Lincoln, on Riverside drive in Chicago.

The Three Greatest Generals.

Mr. Roosevelt rode ninety-eight miles to prove that the endurance test prescribed for army and navy officers are not unduly severe. It was an historic achievement, says the New York World.

Napoleon could not have ridden ninety-eight miles in a day. Neither could Wellington. Washington might possibly have been equal to it as he was an expert horseman, but he would have had too much sense to undertake it. Moltke would have failed miserably. Stonewall Jackson perhaps might have done it, but it is doubtful whether Grant or Lee or Sherman could have stood the test. Every schoolboy knows the poem about Sheridan's ride to Winchester, which was only twenty miles away.

As for the great sea-fighters, neither Paul Jones nor Perry nor Farragut nor Nelson could have ridden ninety-eight miles in one day on a horse to save a ship.

Mr. Roosevelt did it, however. Buffalo Bill could do it. So could Ben Daniels. This proves conclusively, we think, that Theodore Roosevelt, Buffalo Bill and Ben Daniels are the 3 greatest generals and admirals in modern history.

"Inevitable" and "Impossible."

A speaker at a banquet recently given by one of the Democratic societies in New York assumed the role of adviser and outlined a plan by which he thought a Democratic victory could be secured. His plan is for the party to quit "opposing the inevitable and attempting the impossible." This is quite a striking phrase and it is about as definite as the cipher dispatches which pass constantly between those Democrats who want to make the Democratic party a competitor with the Republican party for the support of the plutocratic element. Of course the Democratic party ought not to oppose the "inevitable," but what is inevitable? Shall be call a thing inevitable merely because the Republicans stand for it? Is imperialism inevitable? The Republicans have won four elections in which the Democratic party opposed the trusts. Is a high tariff inevitable? The Republican party has won half a dozen victories when the Democratic party asked for tariff reform. The Democrat who attempts to give advice ought to be more specific; he ought to plainly state what he regards as inevitable, for Democrats might differ on this very important question.

It is true, also, that the Democratic party ought not to attempt the "impossible." But what is impossible? The party has in three campaigns advocated an income tax. Is that impossible? It has insisted upon the elimination of the principles of private monopoly. Is that impossible? It has contended for a reform of the tariff in the interest of the consumer. Is that impossible? It has demanded labor legislation in the interest of the wage earners. Is that impossible? In the last campaign it demanded the publication, before the election, of campaign contributions. Is that an impossibility? It demanded the security of bank deposits? Is that impossible? Those who talk about reorganizing the Democratic party ought to do the rank and file of the party the honor to outline the basis of reorganization and the platform upon which the reorganizing is to take place.

Possibly the character of the reorganization desired is indicated by the plan proposed, namely, that a committee—not the national committee, but a self appointed committee, or if not self-appointed, appointed by those who assume the authority to appoint—shall outline a course for the future. This is an aristocratic way of reforming the Democratic party. The reorganizer will learn what they ought to know already, namely, that the Democratic party is a party organized from the voters up, not from a few leaders down. The Democratic voters have the right to frame the platform and to select the issues. A defeat can not rob the voters of the party of the right to control the party's course. If the party is defeated when the majority controls the party's policy, can it hope for victory by turning the control over to a minority? If defeat follows when the party makes an honest fight for principles plainly stated, can it hope to win a victory by making a dishonest fight on an ambiguous platform, and pledged to nothing in particular? Those who think republican policies inevitable are not safe advisers of the Democratic party; those who think Democratic reforms impossible can scarcely expect a large or enthusiastic following in the Democratic party.

Influence of the Teacher.

No educational system, however carefully drafted, can take the place of the myriad observation and the enlightened care of the individual teacher. There are not one but ten thousand ways to the light, but only the broad-minded teacher can select which of the 10,000 ways is the best for this or that particular boy.—Manchester Guardian.

Despising the Job.

My son, don't despise the job. Get a better if you can, but don't look down on this one. It pays you only ten dollars a week, you say, barely enough to keep you in cigarettes and coffee. Yet there is many a household in town that is run on less income, and many a man with a family dependent upon him would be glad to take your place. A man sneering at his job is a shining target for trouble.—Newark News.

Poverty and Prosperity.

The problems of poverty and labor have become more and more puzzling the further we have gone along in national prosperity, and none feel the bewildering nature of the present state of things more than those who have daily to suffer from its sad effects.—International Theosophical Chronicle.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies in plain words. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Miniature Trees That Are Grown in China Bowls.

In the window of a florist stood some quaint china bowls, in each of which grew a tree—not a shrub, but a full sized tree, dating back many years. "Yes," replied the florist to the writer's inquiry, "they are real trees—oaks, maples and beech trees. We get them from Japan, where the secret of how to rear them is known only to a few. They are raised from seeds or specially selected cuttings, which are watched and tended with that marvelous patience inherent in the eastern races. Fifty years may pass before the tree is considered salable. During this period the plant is trained and its natural tendencies subjugated to the will of the rearer. The gardener prunes and trims and rears and directs with what Carlyle called genius—an infinite capacity for taking pains. A wayward twig may be bound up for two or three years to insure its correct growth. Periodically the tree is re-potted. Each time this happens the roots are carefully examined and useless fiber cut away. Everything is done to concentrate the life of the tree in the smallest possible space. And in time, after years of labor, the plant loses its ability to send out long, lusty shoots and becomes a delightful miniature of its larger brethren."—Montreal Standard.

THE NIGERIAN BABY.

Water Soaked Inside and Outside at the Morning Toilet.

Matrons of the west may be interested to hear the details of the Nigerian native baby's morning toilet. Anything over three months old is no longer a "baby" to the native mother-familias and is bathed with the other children, generally a numerous brood, in the chill morning air before sunrise. The little mite yells lustily while the cold water is splashed over its brown body and generally continues the chorus when put aside to dry. Towels do not form part of the household equipment. The bathing process finished, the infants are subjected to a sort of water cure treatment. The mother seizes a child, scoops up a handful of water and, using her thumb as a kind of spout, squirts it with extraordinary dexterity into the youngster's mouth and down its throat. Protests in the shape of loud gurgles, horrible chokings and desperate struggling are quite unheeded. The steady stream of water continues to pour down the child's throat until the mother's practiced touch on the patient's distended stomach tells her that the limit of capacity has been reached. All babies are submitted to this treatment, which is believed to have a most strengthening effect.—London Standard.

Advice to Smokers.

Here are a number of don'ts for smokers, some of which no doubt will surprise a good many men: Don't smoke directly after a meal. There is the most irresistible craving to smoke, but it is wiser to wait a half hour or an hour. Don't smoke out of doors in a high wind or in cold, frosty weather. In the former case it is dangerous, and in the latter it cracks the lips and prevents proper breathing. Don't smoke with the cigar or pipe held at the corner of the mouth. This excites the secretion of more saliva than when the cigar or pipe is held straight in front. And, above all, don't get in the bad habit of expectorating frequently when smoking. It is quite unnecessary and merely a habit and harmful.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Ignorant, but Careful.

"Ignorance nearly always makes fools of us," said a lecturer. "I remember a man, ignorant of etiquette, who once sat beside me at a public dinner. I noticed that this man, as soon as he was seated, took up one by one the knives at the right of his plate and began to try their edges on his thumb. A waiter behind him leaned forward and said in a hurt tone:

"The knives are all sharp, sir."
"The point is," said my neighbor, "I'm looking for a blunt one. Last time I attended a banquet here I cut my mouth."

An Obedient Tiger.

"How entire," remarks the London Globe, "is the confidence of the native East Indian in the government may be gathered from the following anecdote, which comes from Lahore: A tiger had escaped from the zoological gardens, and its keeper, hoping to lure it back, followed it. When all other inducements had failed, he lifted up his voice and solemnly adjured it in the name of the British government, to which it belonged, to come back to its cage. The tiger, it is needless to add, obeyed at once."

Foul or Fair Weather.

Small Wallace accepted an invitation to a party, as follows: "Dear Louis—I will come to your party if it don't rain" (then, thinking that he might have to stay at home in that case), "and if it does."—Delinquent.

A Real Tumbler.

"I saw a goblet today made of bone."
"Pshaw! I saw a tumbler made of flesh and blood last night."
"Where?"
"At the circus."

Of noise alone is born the inward sense of silence, and from action springs alone the inward knowledge of true love and faith.—MacDonald.

Campaign for 1909 Pool.

A determined and active campaign is to be made among the growers of tobacco in the Burley district within the next ten days, to try to secure pledges to pool the 1909 crop and it is believed that enough can be secured to insure the formation of another pool like the one of last year and the year before. In some of the counties organizers will go about securing pledges and will be allowed a percentage of the amount they succeed in pooling, probably $1 a hoghead. In other counties this will not be necessary as the pools were so successful during the two or three years that it was maintained that the growers have seen the advantage of pooling and will not need arguments to show them that they should join the next pool.

Working for Institute.

Plans to make this year's State Farmers' Institute, to be held at Elizabethtown on February 24, 25 and 26 next, the most complete in every respect of all the farmers' meetings that have been held in Kentucky since the establishment of the institute system, are rapidly being worked out by Commissioner of Agriculture M. S. Rankin and his able assistant, Secretary P. M. Shy, of the State Board of Agriculture, under the auspices of which the State Fair is held. A list of speakers is being made out now, and a tentative draft of the program drawn. Lists of delegates from the farmers' clubs in the various counties of the State are being received into the Commissioner's office, and Commissioner Rankin believes that the farmers of Kentucky will be better pleased with the results of this meeting than they have with any of the previous gatherings of the kind.

Bacon to be Promoted.

It is semi-officially announced that Robert Bacon, Assistant Secretary of State will be named for Secretary of State to succeed Mr. Root, who is expected to retire by the end of the week. John C. O'Laughlin will be made Assistant Secretary.

Gets Judgment for $300.

At Winchester the jury in the case of Miss Laura Ewing against her father, W. R. Ewing, returned a verdict giving the plaintiff judgment for $300. Miss Ewing was suing her father for $3,000 for striking her over the head with a shoe in a family quarrel.

Gov. Willson Likes Possum.

'Possum would not suit Gov. Willson as a steady diet, but he is fond of it, just the same and says it tasted very good at the dinner given in honor of Judge Taft at Atlanta. Gov. Willson returned to Kentucky Tuesday morning from Washington where he went from Atlanta on private business. He was much pleased with his trip to Atlanta, where he was entertained with Judge Taft and sat on his right hand at the banquet. He had a chance to talk over many things with Judge Taft and enjoyed the opportunity to the fullest. Gov. Willson said the guests at the banquet were the finest looking body of men he had ever seen at a similar gathering and Judge Taft agreed with him that one could find few gatherings of this kind where the men would average up higher or better.

$100,000 Per Year.

The salary of the President of the United States was fixed at $100,000 per annum, so far as the Senate could fix it, and the salaries of the Vice President and the Speaker of the House of Representatives $15,000 each. The salary of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States was increased from $13,000 to $15,000 per annum, and that of Associate Justices from $12,500 to $14,500. These changes were made by amendments to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill and after an extended debate, Amendments allowing $5,000 to the Vice President and Speaker of the House for horses and carriages were stricken from the bill.

Gives an Additional Million.

John D. Rockefeller has given $1,000,000 additional to the endowment fund of the University of Chicago, making his total contributions $24,809,666.98.

Afraid to Say.

Three thousand small bottles of whisky and a like number of champagne are to be distributed among spectators at the launching of the battleship De la war, to be shattered against the vessel's iron sides as she glides from the ways. The bombardment is planned as a manifestation against the prohibitionists, who demand that the ship shall be christened with cold water. Under what Secret Service dispensation will it be made sure that each small bottle is put to its protected use?

Wholesale Land Frauds.

Information of a startling character of alleged wholesale and astounding frauds upon public lands has come into the possession of Secretary of the Interior Garfield through special agents in the field.

Allegations are made that approximately $110,000,000 worth of lands in States principally west of the Mississippi river have been fraudulently acquired within the past two years by corporations and individuals.

With a view to recovering these lands Secretary Garfield has sent letters to Chairman Hale and Lawney, of the Senate and House Appropriation Committees, respectively, asking for an additional appropriation of $500,000, which, if granted, with that already asked for, will give the department $1,000,000 for that purpose.

The specific purpose of the appropriation required is to prevent "degradations upon public timber, protecting lands and examining swamp lands."

Big Tree Planting Project.

To give work to the unemployed, the British Royal Commission proposes the public task of planting trees on 9,000,000 acres, about 150,000 acres to be done annually and about 18,000 men to be employed through the winter months. After forty years, it is estimated the forests will be self-supporting. Perhaps human wisdom, meantime, will so have grown up with the woods that there will be no longer a problem of the unemployed.

Gain in Revenues.

An increase of $119,970 in the estimated operating revenues of the Louisville & Nashville railroad is shown by comparative statistics issued Wednesday by Comptroller Charles Hayden. The gain of the week brings the total gain of the first two weeks of the month up to $239,220. Although the gain is hardly so large as that of last month, the increase is steadily gaining and officials are pleased with the record.

Date Set for Trial.

United States District Judge Anderson, of Chicago Wednesday set February 23 for beginning the retrial of the rebate case against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. This is the case in which Judge Landis' fine of $29,240,000 was reversed by the Appellate Court.

THEATRICAL."THE WOLF" IS COMING.

Early in February the theatre-goers will have an opportunity of witnessing for the first time in this city, the Messrs. Sam S. and Lee Shubert's, great production of "The Wolf," the newest drama from the pen of Eugene Walter, which has scored an enormous success the past season. "The Wolf" had its first presentation at Shubert's Lyric Theatre, New York, and enjoyed a most prosperous run at that theatre for one hundred nights, when, on account of previous bookings was obliged to close there at capacity business and was taken to Chicago, where it pleased Chicago amusement seekers for more than three months, the "standing room only" sign being conspicuously displayed at nearly every performance.

"The Wolf" tells a story of a girl who was betrayed and sent to her death in the Canadian Hudson Bay country. Her half-brother seeks the man and finds him attempting to lure another young girl to ruin. It happens that the half-brother loves this girl, so he takes her away, but the villain follows; the meeting of the two rivals, the villain and the hero, makes one of the strongest and most interesting scenes ever witnessed on the American stage.

The two men meet in the dark and fight for the possession of the girl. The audience hears the two men as they toss and pummel each other about the stage. Finally there is a moan, and the listeners know that death has come to one of the fighters. But which one? The moon creeps up, and the victor strikes a match and holds it above his victim's head. Then comes the great applause, for the right man has been victorious and the play has a happy ending.

The piece will be presented here with a particularly strong cast and the scenic environments precisely the same in every detail as those used in New York and Chicago.

"THE FLAMING ARROW."

American plays by American authors should ever be interesting events in a community where Americanism is a dominant characterization. In presenting "The Flaming Arrow" by Lincoln J. Carter, the American author, at the Paris Grand on Monday Jan. 25, theatre-goers will have a chance to see an art creation worthy of the sort. The characters are fifty and ably taken by people who know their business, some of the cleverest actors before the footlights being included in the cast.

The play is one that will live as long as the American drama is in existence. It tells in the best style and most interesting and graphic manner the life of the Indian and inhabitants of the Western border. The comedy is unique and original; the climaxes intensely dramatic and consistently wrought up and the love scenes sweet and romantic. It is essentially the great story of the play that has made it such a long life and it will be a difficult matter on some other author's part to produce a parallel as good as this play.

Caught Like Rats in a Trap.

Between sixty and seventy-five men were caught like rats in a trap and compelled to jump into Lake Michigan early Wednesday, when a temporary crib three miles out in the lake, where they were employed, was destroyed by fire.

Many of the men, buffeted about by the rough sea, which was running at the time, were drowned. Just how many is unknown. The survivors, who have been brought to another crib at 68th street, declare that fifteen men gave up the fight and sank into the lake after holding to the burning edges of the crib for an hour. In addition to these it is feared many men were caught in the tunnel, under the lake's surface, with no means of egress and the water rapidly filling the tunnel. Forty men were taken from the burning crib by tugs, nearly all being terribly burned.

Bitter Fight in Illinois.

The fight on Senator Hopkins in Illinois has become bitter. After five ballots for from election. Several new candidates will be named and the opposition to Hopkins will attempt to centralize their forces on one. Senator Hopkins is putting up a strong fight and has enlisted the aid of many of the leading Republican politicians in the State in his attempt to stem the tide.

Passed Over Governor's Veto.

The Tennessee Senate and House passed the State-wide prohibition bill over the Governor's veto. The bill prohibiting the manufacture of liquor will likely pass. It will be vetoed by Gov. Patterson and the veto will probably be turned down. If such is the case the matter will be taken to the courts on the ground that it is confiscatory legislation.

Senators Elected.

Among the Senators elected Wednesday were: Shively in Indiana; Stone in Missouri; Root in New York; Penrose in Pennsylvania; Overman in North Carolina; Smooth in Utah; Crawford in South Dakota; Chamberlain in Oregon; Cummins in Iowa; Gore in Oklahoma, and Johnson in North Dakota.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

—In the last few days mule buyers have purchased at Union City, Tenn., six carloads of fine mules, paying out $40,000.

—W. K. Greogry, of Bourbon, sold his farm of 35 acres, to J. W. Urms-ton, of Harrison, for $7,225. Possession in March.

—Reports from various sections of Nicholas county are to the effect that peach trees in great numbers are dead, a condition attributed mainly to the great drouth that prevailed for months throughout that section of the State.

—The Paris Creamery Company, which has had for several months 400 pounds of creamery butter in cold storage in Lexington has shipped the butter to Cincinnati, where it will be placed on the market.

—Quite a large number of Kentucky buyers were in the Kansas City market last week buying feeding cattle to ship to this State. Good cattle are reported scarcer than for some years. 31 carloads were shipped from Kansas City to various points in Kentucky during the past few days.

—The highest priced box of apples on record is being exhibited at Chicago. The fruit is of the wine sap variety, and was awarded the Grand Sweep-stake prize of $500 at the National Apple Show, held at Spokane Washington. The present owners paid sixty cents each for the 112 apples in the box.

—At Georgetown Court Monday there were 250 cattle on the market, but some left unsold. Best feeders sold at $4.75 per cwt.; yearlings, $4.55; calves $13.25 to $14.50 per head. Two-year-old mules $230 to $260 per pair. Charley Thompson, of Lexington bought quite a number. Hep aid $390 for one pair.

—For the first time since it was built, nearly three years ago, at a cost of $100,000, the American Tobacco Company's mammoth warehouse at Lexington is being used for storing the company's tobacco recently purchased from the Burley Tobacco Society and which is being shipped in to Lexington from the surrounding counties.

—The Kansas Supreme Court, in a decision handed down recently, reaffirmed the verdict and fine of the District Court for Shawnee county against the International Harvester Company. The company must pay a fine of $12,000 on forty-two counts, each count charging a violation of the Kansas anti-trust laws. The case will probably go to the United States Supreme Court. The chief evidence against the International at the trial was the words of Cyrus McCormick, of the company, to the effect, that his company controlled 95 per cent of the harvesting machine plants of the country, and that he hoped to get all of them.

Jerry Sullivan to Locate in Lexington.

Mr. Jerry Sullivan, who for nearly 25 years has conducted a general merchandise business at Centerville, this county, has sold his stock of goods to W. A. Welch & Co., who took possession Tuesday. Mr. Sullivan has accumulated considerable real estate, including two farms, which he expects to sell and move with his family to Lexington, where he will engage in business. Mr. Sullivan is one of Bourbon's most successful and highly respected citizens and his host of friends regret exceedingly to have him and his excellent family move from our county. He has for a number of years been a Director in the Deposit Bank. Mr. Sullivan's mother, Mrs. Dennis Sullivan, and brother, Mr. Con Sullivan, and sister, Mrs. Mary Stewart reside in Lexington.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—John T. Ireland, of Lexington, was in the city yesterday.

—Mrs. Wallace Mitchell visited friends in Lexington Thursday.

—Mr. Sherman Stivers made a business trip to Cincinnati Wednesday.

—Miss Mary Bashford has returned home from two month's visit to friends in Columbus, O.

—Lindsay Ware, formerly of this city, was here yesterday mingling with his old friends.

—Miss Mary Varden has returned home from an extended visit to friends in New York City.

—Mrs. W. R. Blakemore, of Chicago, arrived last night to visit her sister, Mrs. Wallace Mitchell, on Duncan Avenue.

—Mrs. W. A. Johnson left yesterday for Danville to attend the funeral of an uncle, Mr. Barbee, who died several days ago in Arizona.

—Mr. Lew Taylor has resigned his position with Stuart & O'Brien, and has accepted a position with Mr. Geo. McWilliams, the shoe merchant.

—Mrs. D. C. Parrish entertained with a thimble party on Wednesday afternoon and will entertain her younger friends this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alexander and two little daughters leave Monday for the Bermuda Islands, in the North Atlantic Ocean, for the benefit of former's health.

—Frank P. Kenney, brother of Dr. Wm. Kenney, of this city, has accepted the Secretaryship of the Chicago Horse Sale Company, and the Stock Farm says of him: "He will prove a valuable addition to the Chicago firm's management."

—Mr. Matt Turney, formerly of this city, of Georgetown the last few years, left yesterday for Oklahoma City to locate. His wife will follow him on Feb. 1. Mr. Turney's mother lives at Oklahoma and it is said has been very successful as a business woman.

—The Paris Commercial Club entertained fifty business men last evening at 8 o'clock dinner at the Windsor Hotel in honor of its guest, Dr. Wm. Goodell Frost, President of Berea College. Dr. Frost presented a matter of great interest to Paris and Bourbon County.

Deplorable Accident.

The papers yesterday tell of a deplorable accident near Buckeye, Garrard county, in which Boyle Lay, aged 18, accidentally shot and killed his brother, Lillon, aged 13. The two boys were out rabbit hunting, and ran a rabbit into a hollow log. Boyle told Lillon to go to one end of the log and place his hat over it to prevent the rabbit running out and he would fire into the other end. Instead of doing this Lillon knelt down and looked into the log. Thinking only his brother's hat was there Boyle fired, blowing his brother's head almost off and killing him instantly. Boyle is almost crazed from grief.

A Million for the State.

About $1,000,000, unclaimed in Massachusetts savings banks for more than thirty years, will be paid to the State Treasurer under a decision of the Supreme Judicial Court upholding the act of 1907 ordering such disposal.

Will Pay Fine in Silver.

According to a statement credited to an attorney of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, at Austin, Tex., Wednesday, the $1,625,000 judgment obtained by the State of Texas against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company for violating Texas anti-trust laws will be paid in silver dollars, delivered at the State Treasury. The judgment and interest will total almost $2,000,000. If this amount is paid in silver dollars the money delivered will weight 101,425 pounds, amounting to about three car loads, and it will take an expert 40 days to count it.

Frederick A. Wallis Honored.

Governor Hughes sent to the Senate yesterday the nomination of Frederick A. Wallis, of New York City, to the State Superintendent of Insurance. Mr. Wallis was born in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, and has been identified with the insurance business for the last fourteen years.

All in Paris and Bourbon County will hear news of the success of Mr. Wallis with interest and pleasure, for since his marriage to Miss Nannine Clay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Henry Clay, of this city, Bourbon county has claimed him as her own. Mr. Wallis wherever known throughout his home State has always been prominently identified in business, society, church and philanthropic circles.

Mr. Wallis has had a wonderful record in the insurance world, and his selection for State Superintendent of New York, the headquarters of insurance interests in America, by Governor Hughes, whose fame was won in the insurance investigations, is the highest tribute that could be paid to him. This is the post from which the heads of several of the greatest insurance companies in America have been taken, just as Secretaries of the Treasury are sought after by great financial corporations.

This fat and juicy plum is given to one that is not only worthy in every respect but one fully qualified to fill the high office to which he has been appointed. We not only congratulate Mr. Wallis, but also Gov. Hughes in selecting such a man for this honor.

"Bradley's Special."

Final arrangements for the trip of the "Bradley Special" to Washington are now being made by M. H. Thatcher, who is in charge of the train. A special rate of $17 from Louisville, on this train only has been secured. The train will leave Louisville at 9 o'clock on the night of March 2, and will reach Washington the next evening. The train will leave Washington at 9 o'clock on the night of March 5, and it is thought that by this arrangement the train will pass through the beautiful scenery of Virginia and West Virginia in the daytime. Mr. Thatcher estimates that the trip can be made for a minimum cost of $32.50. The sleepers in which the Kentuckians will go to Washington will be used as rooms at Washington, and can be occupied at night for $1.50, which is cheaper than going to a hotel. This accommodation will be for the men of the party only, and the women who go will have to stay at a hotel. Mr. Thatcher says that a large crowd will go from Kentucky.

Haggin Buys Famous Bull.

J. B. Haggin, master of Elmendorf stock farm, has recently purchased of George H. White, of Emerson, Iowa, the famous Shorthorn bull, King Cumberland, for the reported price of $5,000. The bull has been received at Elmendorf and will be one of the premium animals to head the Shorthorn herd there. Mr. White had bought the bull only three months before the sale to Mr. Haggin for $3,000 from H. H. Powell, of Lynn Grove. When exhibited at the Chicago and Kansas City stock shows the animal was the winner of the first prizes.

Biggest Tobacco Society in the World.

Plans looking toward perfecting the organization and preparation of active work of the Union Tobacco Society, an institution that is to control the sale of the entire output of tobacco of the whole country, were discussed Wednesday at Louisville by the executive committee of the Burley Tobacco Society, which met in the afternoon at the Louisville Hotel.

The meeting was for the purpose of preliminary discussion of the work to come before the Union Tobacco Society which is in session.

Clarence Lebus, president of the Burley Society, was present and presided over the deliberations of the committee. Long discussion was made of the feasibility of various plans to secure pledges for the entire 1909 crop, and the entire direction of the whole meeting was toward arrangements to facilitate the work taken up Wednesday.

Great accomplishments are expected to be the result of the day's meetings, as work for the society during the entire year is to be put on a definite basis. In its present projected scope the society is to become one great body, of which all tobacco societies are to be co-operative branches, and a pool will be made of the products of all sections, the officers of the Union Society supervising its sale. The society will become the largest institution of its kind in the world if present contemplations are realized.

Beware of Frequent Colds.

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

The Lucky Dollar.

How is Your Digestion.

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 223 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alternative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. at Oberdorfer's drug store.

A Common Center.

An optimist is a man who eats the doughnut without thinking of the hole. So is a pessimist.—Puck.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

Man His Own Architect.

Every man is the builder of a temple, called his body, to the god he worships, after a style purely his own, nor can he get off by hammering marble instead. We are all sculptors and painters, and our material is our own flesh and blood and bones. Any nobleness begins at once to fine a man's features, any meanness to imbrute them.—Thoreau.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs and colds and for every diseased condition of the throat, chest or lungs," says W. V. Henry, of Panama, Mo. The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stage of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50 cts. and $1. Trial bottle free.

Still Warm.

After watching a turkey gobbler for some minutes, Tommy exclaimed: "Lock, mamma, the old gobbler has had his fan up for half an hour, and his face looks just as red as ever!"

Watched Fifteen Years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug store.

SUGGESTED BY CHILDREN.

Origin of the Argand Lamp and the Telescope.

Some of our most useful mechanical appliances owe their existence to the ingenuity of children in fashioning their playthings. Argand, who invented a lamp with a wick fitted into a hollow cylinder, was one day busy in his workshop. Sitting before the burning lamp, his little brother was amusing himself by placing a bottomless oil flask over different articles. Suddenly he placed it upon the flame of the lamp, which instantly shot up the long circular neck of the flask with increased brilliancy. Argand did not allow such a suggestive occurrence to escape him. The idea of the lamp chimney almost immediately came into his head, and in a short time his invention was perfected.

The telescope owes its origin to a similar occurrence. The children of a Dutch spectacle maker happened to be playing one day with some of their father's glasses in front of the shop door. Placing two of the glasses together, they peeped through them and were exceedingly astonished to see the weathercock of the neighboring steeple brought within a short distance of their eyes. They were naturally puzzled and called their father to see the strange sight. When the spectacle maker looked through the glasses he was no less surprised than the children had been. He went indoors and thought the matter over, and then the idea occurred to him that he might construct a curious new toy which would give people a good deal of amusement. Not long after the telescope was an accomplished fact.

THE SUBTLE FEMALE.

How She Wheedles and Bullies the Poor Man Creature.

As woman gradually impressed upon man the utility of strutting around in finery and the necessity of being practically useful his garb has become more and more sober and workaday in appearance. Ethnologists tell us that the decorations of primitive man were intended to fascinate feminine eyes, but woman presently began to make it clear that she was not hunting for "a fine, showy article," but something solid and plain and useful, warranted to stand wear and tear. As for the ornamental role, she was going to represent the family herself in that line.

In fact, when one reflects how man has been stripped of gauds and wheedled out of his flipperies one by one, one cannot help feeling a tender pity for this victim of feminine self-aggrandizement. Poor, timid trembler! A vague, general fear of the female sex haunts him. Afraid of being married against his will, he is circumvented by some subtle female creature who makes him think that it is his will to marry her. An observer remarks that a man very often in running away from the right woman runs straight into the arms of the wrong woman. And the wrong woman, that great opportunist, is always waiting there to block his headlong flight and switch it toward the altar.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

An Easy Job.

Indifference displayed in the face of the uncertainties and dangers of life is characteristic of the Wessex dwellers in the "Islands of the Vale," according to Eleanor G. Hayden, the author of the book of the title, who supports her statement with a story of humorous turn.

A certain cottage and its old mistress had improved so greatly in comfort and appearance that a visitor shrewdly surmised that the son of the house, a lazy ne'er do well, had turned over a new leaf. He inquired about it.

"Yes, sir, my son's in work now," said the smiling old mother. "Takes good money, he does, too. All he has to do is to go twice a day to the circus and put his head in the lion's mouth. The rest of the time he has to himself."

Not Infectious.

I used to be very much afraid that my children while playing with others would be exposed to some contagious disease, and they were constantly on the lookout for trouble of this kind.

One day little Louise, aged four, came rushing in from the street where she had been playing with a crowd of children. In a very excited manner she burst out, "Well, mother, two of the Meyers children have something, but sister says she don't think we'll catch it, though."

"Well, what is it, darling?" I asked.

"It's the pigeon toes," she replied.—Dellator.

How Pike Kill Perch.

From careful observation I am satisfied that pike kill their prey before swallowing them, and they do this by holding whatever fish they have secured crossways in their powerful jaws for some time before bolting it. I once watched a pike hold a perch in this way for twenty minutes, and then he moved off out of sight, but from five to ten minutes is the usual time.—W. H. Armistead in "Trout Waters Management and Angling."

Our Wonderful Railroads.

Gail Hamilton was right when she said that if there were never to be any railways on this continent it would have been an impertinence for Columbus to have discovered it. Only by the railways could its magnificent distances be bridged. Equally correct was Charles Carroll of Carrollton, the last survivor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, when, on throwing up the first shovelful of earth for the first railway of the United States which was intended to carry passengers and freight, the Baltimore and Ohio, he exclaimed, "I consider this event second only to that of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, if second even to that." That was in 1828. But England was far ahead of us in railway building in the beginning. Even Russia got a better start than we did. At the outset we imported not only our locomotives and cars, but also the rails on which they were run and the men to run them. However, John Stevens, Peter Cooper, Evan Thomas, Matthias Baldwin and others changed all this and in their various fields laid the foundations of a railway system which is today in dimensions and completeness far ahead of that of any other half a dozen countries in the world combined.—Leslie's Weekly.

The Franz Hals Museum in Holland.

Old Haarlem calls up the shadow of Franz Hals. The museum is verily a sanctuary to his memory. There the famous corporation pictures hang. One sees the members of the various guilds in the fullness of careless life, eating, drinking and merrymaking. Here Hals is seen at the height of his power. The splendid color and directness of work are a revelation. Every figure seems alive, and one is convinced they were all in the flesh once. This great master with one bold stroke of his brush made these men immortal. At eighty years he still painted, and his last picture hangs beside his masterpieces. Hals and Hals will be associated as long as the place lasts. One marvels at the execution of the Dutch painters, whether it be in the broad work of Hals or in the miniature finish of the genre masters. All of them had a splendid sense of values, atmosphere and human life; a perfect harmony of relation fills their canvases.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Cold and a Candle.

Dr. Moss of the English polar expedition of 1875 and 1876, among other odd things, tells of the effect of cold on a wax candle which he burned. The temperature was 35 degrees below zero, and the doctor must have been considerably discouraged when, upon looking at his candle, he discovered that the flame had all it could do to keep warm. It was so cold that the flame could not melt all the wax of the candle, but was forced to eat its way down the candle, leaving a sort of skeleton of the candle standing. There was heat enough, however, to melt oddly shaped holes in the thin walls of wax, and the result was a beautiful lacelike cylinder of white, with a tongue of yellow flame burning inside of it and sending out into the darkness many streaks of light.

Siege of Crete.

Crete can claim to have been the scene of one of the longest sieges on record, longer than the siege of Troy, for in the seventeenth century it took the Turks more than twenty years to capture its capital city. The island, in fact, is famous for protracted military operations, for, though the revolution of 1821 was speedily successful in the open country, the fortified towns were still uncaptured when the powers intervened in 1830.

Awkward For the Aeronaut.

An element of humor characterized one of Mr. Spencer's Indian experiences. One day, after making a parachute descent, his balloon, traveling on, came down among some fisher folk, who promptly unpicked the net to use for fishing lines and cut up the balloon to make waterproof clothing.—London Captain.

Humility.

It is a curious fact of human nature that humility draws forth from the world almost as much admiration as courage. As in the case of courage, it is almost impossible wholly to condemn a character in which we see it, and without it the greatest virtues leave us cold. If every good word which the Pharisee said of himself were proved true, we should still dislike him. We even dislike his modern and far less offensive descendant, the prig.

TIPS IN SCOTLAND.

An Example of How Some Servants Win Their Wages.

A gentleman was invited to a shoot in Scotland at two places close together. He arrived at the first place, and immediately after his arrival at the first house received a telegram calling him back to town. He, however, determined to have one day's shooting and to proceed to town by the night mail.

At the end of the day he gave the head keeper £1 and asked him to send his gun and cartridge bag over to the other place for which he had an invitation and where he proposed proceeding in three or four days' time. On his arrival there after his visit to town he found his gun, etc., had not arrived, whereupon he wrote to the keeper, asking him to forward it at once, and he received a reply stating that when he (the keeper) had received the other £4 to which he was "entitled" the gun would be forwarded. It was detained till payment was made.

The gentleman wrote to the keeper's master and received a reply that "he (the master) never interfered between his guests and his servants in the matter of tips." The gentleman ascertained that the master in question paid the keeper no wages, but left him to get what he could out of the guests.—London Times.

Luck in Horseshoes.

The superstition about luck in horseshoes dates back too far for record, but it was not always confined to the horseshoe. Any piece of iron found in one's path was accounted a sign of good luck, and as horseshoes were more commonly picked up than any other article of that metal that particular object at last became the standard emblem of good fortune and the supposed defense against bad luck. In Aubrey's "Miscellanies," written 200 years ago, the author mentions having seen the horseshoe nailed up in church, and he also says that "most of the houses in the west end of London have the horseshoe on the threshold." The horseshoe to possess virtue must have been found, not purchased or looked up. Admiral Nelson had great faith in the luck of the horseshoe, and one was nailed to the mast of his ship, the Victory.—London Chronicle.

One Thing He Could Not Have.

Although there was no sort of toy which could be bought and for which Harold had expressed a desire that was not in his possession, he still had his unsatisfied longings. "I know what I wish I was, mother," he said one day when his own big brother had gone away and the little boy across the street was ill.

"Yes, dear," said his mother. "Perhaps you can be it, Harold; mother will help you. Is it to play soldier?"
"No, indeed!" said Harold scornfully. "I just wish I was two little dogs, so I could play together."—Youth's Companion.

Bouncing Betsey.

There is an old fashioned flower called "Bouncing Betsey," which every one should love for one trait. We have noticed that it grows on all neglected graves, as if trying to cover up the fact that some one who once lived is forgotten. It may also be found in corners of old fashioned gardens, where it grows and blooms and protests against being pushed out entirely. There are some dear old fashioned people who suggest "Bouncing Betsey."—Atchison Globe.

Her Latest Luxury.

"Young man," said the heavy father, "do you understand the style in which my daughter has been accustomed to live? She has always had every luxury she wanted." "And now I'm the luxury she wants," murmured the suitor.—London Globe.

Time's Changes.

"Before we were married you said you'd lay down your life for me," she sobbed.
"I know it," he returned solemnly, "but this confounded flat is so tiny there's no place to lay anything down."—Harper's Bazar.

To Be Perfectly Accurate.

The almanac tells us what the weather will be like next year, the government forecaster tells us what it will be like to-morrow, but for perfect accuracy it is necessary to consult the man who tells us what it was like yesterday.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

First—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

Second—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

Third—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

Fourth—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it.

Georgia Editor's Mistake.

Oliver Fremstad, who has just come from Europe, says the women are wearing monacles over there. It reminds us that the last time we used the word monacle the printer made it manacle, and we had to hide out for two days.—Atlanta Georgian.

Analysis of Good Temper.

The good temper is born in nature of low vitality, iron nerves and thick skin. These are insensitive to change of moral atmosphere, and what would wound another soul mortally barely inflicts a scratch on them. The rest of their emotions are usually on a par with the temper—placid, imperturbable and sluggish. Those incapable of the passion of anger must be incapable of any other great passion.—Exchange.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

—Little Blanton Collier is improving slowly.

—Mrs. Wm. Hamilton continues about the same.

—There is some improvement noted in the condition of Mrs. Foster.

—Mrs. W. V. Shaw spent Wednesday and Thursday in Cincinnati.

—Mrs. Gardner, of Paris, is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs.
E. B. Taylor.

—Miss Effie Ballinger, of Avon, is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Merrimse.

—Mrs. W. J. Fant, of Flemingsburg, spent Monday with her son, Cadet N.
J. Fant, Jr., at M. M. I.

—Mrs. Annie Massie and Mrs. Peters, of Paris, spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. Mattie Hawes.

—Mrs. Huston Taylor, of New York, who is with her sister-in-law, Mrs. R.
S. Sanders, spent Tuesday in Paris.

—Miss Lillian Chanslor left Wednesday for a few days visit to her sister, Mrs. Berry Bedford, of Lexington.

—Fresh Standard Oysters 30 cents per quart; 15 cents per pint; full measure and no liquor.

PROCTOR & CO.

—Mr. Carl Miller, of Cincinnati, spent a few days this week with his aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Miller and family.

—Dr. Garrett Judy, of Kirksville, spent Monday and Tuesday with his brothers, Messrs. G. W. and T. D.
Judy.

—Mr. W. G. McClintock is a member of the County Board of Supervisors and has been attending the meetings at Paris this week.

—Mr. Charley Hook returned to his home in Augusta Tuesday, after spending several days with his sister, Mrs.
J. A. Butler.

—Mrs. Mattie Hawes attended the funeral of her cousin, Mr. Hubert Spears, of Lexington, Tuesday. Mr.
Spears died at St. Louis, Mo.

—Messrs. F. F. Hurst, E. M. Ingels and D. P. Jones constituted the Board of Town Supervisors which completed its work Tuesday. They found more than $840,000 to adjust.

—Miss M. B. Clark left Tuesday to be absent several weeks, spending a part of the time with her sister, Mrs.
Williams, of Irving, the remainder in the wholesale millinery houses of Cincinnati and Louisville.

—One of the attractive features of the Orphean Musical Club is the brass quartette, consisting of cornet mellophone, baritone and trombone. This is a rare and delightful combination, insuring a well-balanced quartette.

—The Orphean Musical Club, second number of the Lyceum course, Wednesday evening, January 27, opera house, 8 o'clock. General admission 35 cents; reserved seats 50 cents. Seats go on sale at the drug store of Smith &
Wadell, Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23.

—We have yet a few season tickets for the Lyceum course which we will dispose of at 75 cents for the remaining numbers. Ten cents extra for each number for reserved seats if you desire them. Leave your names with Smith & Wadell, at the postoffice or with R. M. Caldwell, Manager.

—The Orphean Musical Club is one of the best male quartettes on the road.
They are now playing their sixth season and in that time have played several return dates. The work is calculated to please any popular audience. The program admits of much variety, brass and vocal music, impersonations and illustrated songs.

—The protracted meeting continues at the Presbyterian church with increasing interest. The mid-week audiences are larger than at any previous meeting in the history of Millersburg, the aisles are filled with chairs every night and the house is more than comfortably filled in the afternoons. All business is suspended at night and business houses closed. The meeting has reached that point where the pro and con of every subject discussed by Rev.
Mr. Smith is being thoroughly ventilated on the streets and in the business houses the next day. Dr. Smith handles attractive, catchy subjects in an attractive inoffensive way. These subjects are always given out the day previous, affording everybody an ample opportunity to ponder over them.
A large audience is then the inevitable result.

—Mr. C. C. Chanslor, of this place, and Miss Lydia Wright, of Maysville, were quietly married Wednesday at noon in the parlors of the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington. Dr. John Barbour, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Maysville, officiating. Mr. Chanslor is one of our rising young business men and for the past two years has been connected with the tobacco interests here in the American Society of Equity. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs.
R. C. Chanslor and has a wide circle of friends. Miss Wright is a popular young lady of Maysville an ardent worker in all the societies of the First Presbyterian church of which she is a member, attractive and cultured. We gladly welcome her into our midst.
She does not come as a perfect stranger, having visited here on one or more occasions. She has the happy faculty of winning friends wherever she goes.
Those who attended the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Thomson. Miss Katherine Miller and Mrs.
W. A. Butler. They will return after a short wedding trip. For the present they will reside with his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. R. E. Chanslor. In March they will occupy the upper floor of the residence of Rev. G. L. Kerr.

The Magic Button.

If inventions of office machinery to crease during the next ten years as rapidly as they have increased during the last decade, the time will soon come when an up-to-date office will constitute merely of the master and an array of mechanical devices for doing his work by the pressure of buttons.—
System.

Gnawing His Way.
Nature knew that the rat would want to spend half his time gnawing and she therefore provided him with the right kind of teeth to do it. A boy caught a rat and boxed it up, and in the course of a week the rodent gnawed a hole through oak planks naild together until there was a thickness of 18 inches. The hole was almost as round and smooth as a carpenter could have made.

Cervantes' Tribute to Sleep.
Now, blessings light on him that first invented this same sleep! It covers a man all over, thoughts and all, like a cloak; it is meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold and cold for the hot. It is the current coin that purchases all the pleasures of the world, cheap, and the balance that sets the king and the shepherd, the fool and the wise man, even,—Cervantes.
